DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-7 as recited in the preliminary amendment filed 2/7/05 are pending.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-6, drawn to a method for differentiating a stem cell to a cell that expresses surfactant protein C (SPC).

Group II, claim(s) 7, drawn to a cell that expresses SPC.

The inventions listed as Groups I and II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: They are not unified by a special technical feature.

The expression "special technical feature" refers to those features that define a contribution which each of the claimed inventions, considered as a whole, makes over the prior art. Thus, a feature found in the prior art cannot be considered to be a special technical feature.

The technical feature that unifies Groups I and II is a cell that expresses SPC. SPC-expressing cells were known in the art at the time of filing. For example, Ross et al. (1999, AJP Lung Cellular and Molecular Physiology 277: L1104-L1108; reference U) teach that lung cells express and secrete SPC (Figures 1-3 and page L1106, e.g.). Since SPC-expressing cells were known at the time of the invention, such a cell makes no contribution over the prior art and cannot be considered a special technical feature.

Because the limitation "differentiated in vitro from a stem cell" in Group II is a product-by-process limitation, it does not necessarily affect the properties of the product per se; therefore, the process steps recited in Group I are not a unifying technical feature.

Because the above restriction/election requirement is complex, a telephone call to applicant's agent to request an oral election was not made. See M.P.E.P. § 812.01.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
